

Immunofluorescence Assay System

- 8 Channels
- Rapid
- High Throughput

POCT system is a diagnostic system that using fluorescence immunoassay to quantify analysts with high sensitivity by measuring laser-induced epifluorescence of test cartridges. It can be used to screen lifestyle-related diseases from cardiac diseases, cancers, diabetes, infectious diseases to hormonal disorder.

Product Characteristics

Perfect sense of touch And visual experience

7 "color touch screen, display the screen design Angle is scientific, good user experience.

Rapid tests

Up to 200 tests per hour, CRP+SAA only takes 3 minutes to complete, myocardial triathlons (cTnI/CK-MB/Myo) only takes 15 minutes to complete, greatly helping the construction of chest pain centers and stroke centers.

Intelligent operation

Automatic identification of test items, automatic return card after completion of detection, no manual operation.

Diversification of reporting modes

Results are automatically uploaded, report output is more intelligent, and special project reporting mode is supported.

Wider application scenarios

It is suitable for clinical laboratory, emergency, ICU, bedside clinical departments and other scenarios

Support for LIS transport

Support hospital LIS connection to transmit test results and export data.

Convenient and efficient

Can be connected to the scan code gun, automatic input patient information, more convenient and efficient.

Powerful data storage

With the same project, more QR code are stored, and more than 40,000 pieces of data are stored, which can better meet the needs of the department.

More accurate results

Instrument CV $\leq 2\%$

Good channel consistency

Relative range Rp $\leq 2\%$
